

Wally The Worker

Wally The Worker is without a doubt one of the most sought after stand up comedians performing in Australia today. The reason for his popularity is that he will go wherever he can find an audience to work to.

He's the comedian's "I've Been Everywhere" man working from The Gulf of Carpentaria to Tasmania and in every nook and cranny in Australia. He's the ultimate Roadshow of Comedy, spending six months of the year touring, but as he says "I don't care for travelling, but I like the work when I get there".

The other half of the year is spent in his home town Sydney where he works constantly in Clubland and is a favourite of the Corporate business sector because of his different approach to comedy. He's the consummate comedy professional. To watch him work onstage or on television is to understand the true meaning of comic timing.

His television credits include the Midday Show, where he was a regular for over 6 years, Wide World of Sports, Sydney Extra, Burke's Backyard, Hinch and Sale Of The Century.

Also he did a one hour special for Sky Channel of "WALLY THE WORKER LIVE". He has performed in many countries around the world including the Hilton Hotel circuit throughout Asia, Italy, New Guinea, New Zealand and The United States. During the Vietnam War he was affectionately known as the "Bob Hope of Australia" having entertained both Australian and American troops on more occasions than any other Aussie performer.

He is heard on radio regularly and has become one of Australia's truly loved funny men.
