In the field of Australian Comedy, the last 15 years have been great for "Wally The Worker" the drawing ocker sexist blue collar worker with the mischievous eyes and cutting wit - the first truly Oz-clown since Hoges.

Wally is the Overallled, Hard-hatted alter ego creation of comedian Johnny Holmes.

Asked "Who is the funniest man on Australian Television, Ray Martin quoted "Wally The Worker". Viewers, the show's producers and Ray are amazed that Wally managed to appear every 3 to 4 weeks to do his 5 minute spots without repeating any material.

SKY CHANNEL presented "Wally The Worker Special" - a one hour one-man presentation of Wally The Worker LIVE! This was shown in over 7,000 Clubs & Hotels Australia-Wide

One of "Wally's" proudest moments was being chosen to "Roast" Ray Martin on Ray's "Farewell to Middy" show.

Wally's Album "They're Gonna Get Ya" - a Comedy send up on the Federal Elections released by Dino records.
